

Do you want to be able to share or download files from the Internet?

If you combine Computer Science,
Anthropology, and French culture,
you may find a different answer.

Jelena Karanovic '99 returns to Goucher on Thursday, April 26 at 2:30 PM to discuss her research in this area and answer questions from the audience.

The discussion will take place in the Geen
Community Center and is sponsored by the MaCS Club and the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures.
